OMRON Healthcare India has awarded scholarships to 200 female students nationwide through its OMRON Healthcare Scholarship 2024-25 program. This initiative, executed through Indias leading scholarship & mentorship platform, Buddy4Study, aims to help girl students in grades 9 to 12, move closer to their academic goals.

In line with their commitment to corporate social responsibility (CSR), OMRON Healthcare India developed an Education Scholarship Program specifically to support girl students in India studying in high school. According to data collected by the Indian Ministry of Education, there are 13.79 crore boys enrolled in schools, compared to 12.73 crore girls. This indicates that girls constitute 48 percent of the school population. At preschool and kindergarten levels, girls make up only 46.8 percent. This number rises to 47.8 percent in primary school and peaks at 48.3 percent in upper primary or elementary school (Classes 6 to 8). However, the gap widens at the secondary school level (Classes 9 and 10), with only 47.9 percent of enrolled children being girls. (Source)
