Avarna Jain, Chairperson of RPSG Lifestyle Media Pvt. Ltd., addressed the gathering and moderated a fireside chat titled “The New Storytellers” with editors from the publications: Rahul Gangwani, Editor of Esquire India; Aindrila Mitra, Editor of Robb Report India; Anupama Chopra, Editor of The Hollywood Reporter India; Meghna Sharma, Executive Editor of Manifest; and Sourav Majumdar, Editor-in-Chief of Fortune India.

The panel discussion examined how content is being shaped for Indian audiences across platforms. Speaking about the company’s vision, Avarna Jain said, “Our promise is simple, to be the home where India’s most influential stories and storytellers live and to do that in partnership with those who believe, like we do, that culture is the most powerful form of currency in the world today. Culture is capital.”

Nishanth Vishwanath, General Manager, The St. Regis Mumbai said, "The St. Regis Mumbai has always been the city's house of celebrations and conversations. Hosting the inaugural edition of The Edit Collective was a natural choice, as it brings together editors shaping India's content landscape. This platform strengthens collaboration between hospitality and lifestyle media, fostering dialogue and ideas that elevate both industries."

The event marked a milestone year for RPSG Lifestyle Media, which operates under the RP-Sanjiv Goenka Group. The company has partnered with over 150 brands since its inception. The year included events such as The Hollywood Reporter India's Roundtables, Robb Report India's RR Experience in Udaipur, the Esquire and Michael Kors Diwali Party, the FDCI Manifest Wedding Weekend, Fortune India's Best CEOs event, and Fortune 40 Under 40.

RPSG Lifestyle Media operates print and digital publications across lifestyle, luxury, entertainment, and culture verticals in India, delivering cross-platform media solutions from print to digital and experiential content.

The company's portfolio includes Esquire India, Robb Report India, The Hollywood Reporter India, Manifest, Fortune India, Open Magazine, and digital platforms MensXP, iDiva, and H00K. The group's broader media ecosystem includes Editor-G, H00K, Pocket Aces, and Saregama.
