Guests were also treated to a special video message from Olli-Pekka Heinonen, Director General of the IB, who congratulated the school and extended his best wishes on reaching this significant milestone.

The evening was a vibrant reflection of two decades of inquiry, creativity and global-minded learning. Highlights included captivating performances in art, music and drama by talented IB students, as well as inspiring stories shared by accomplished IB alumni, demonstrating the transformative impact of the programme. Guests enjoyed learning how the IBDP has shaped lives and fostered a globally minded community at TBS since 2005.

Vanita Uppal OBE, Director of The British School New Delhi, commented, "Over the last two decades, I have witnessed firsthand the profound impact of the IBDP on student learning. I say with pride and gratitude that our students not only excel academically but also emerge as authentic global citizens, demonstrating compassion, empathy and responsibility for both local and global issues – true embodiments of the IB mission. Today's celebration was a testament to The British School's commitment to excellence in education and to creating the leaders of tomorrow."
